

Irish Examiner

WISH LIST

Dollies, delightful boxes and mock ups of Morrissey on a tea towel? They're all part of Esther N McCarthy's wishful world

www.ie.nextdirect.com
Check out this personalised rag doll, 45cm of cuteness. You can make it personal by adding a name that comes embroidered on the front of the doll's dress. Even better, she's machine washable. €29 from www.ire-

We're loving these colorful the Butterfly range by M son, €82 from Debenhams
hams.ie

Petalwell brings aromatherapy and contemporary design together in a healthy, clever and design-led way. A portable diffuser, the smartphone-size element heats the oil without the inconvenience of a traditional burner and comes in a range of blends. Made in Ireland, Petalwell's aromatherapy formulas have names like 'Live for vitality'; 'Love for romance' and 'Sleep' and are made from organic or wild-harvested ingredients. A Petalwell gift set costs €95.00 and comes with diffuser, a travel pouch and a bottle of the Petalwell 'Live' blend. The diffuser costs €75 on its own and the six essential oil blends are priced at €25 each. Available online at www.petalwell.com and in selected spas and boutiques, on Facebook or @Petalwell.

Irish Examiner

Colorful cases from Matthew Williams. www.deben-

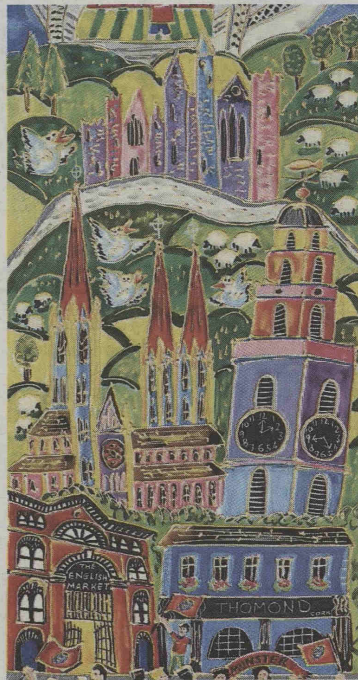

This Moose boot scraper conjures up images of snow-caked wellies stomping in after a good ole snowball fight. It would work as well in boring old Irish mud. €27 from Next.

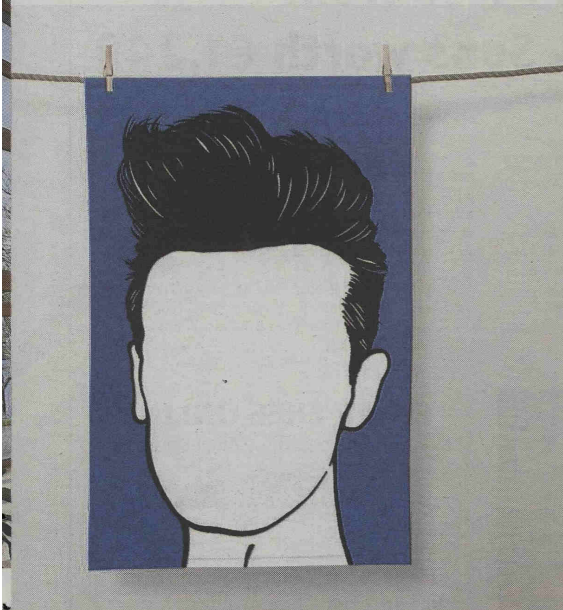

More Wishlist picks overleaf....

Tefal invented non-stick cookware back in 1954, and in 2014 has come up with the nifty idea of detachable handles— think of the storage space saved. The Ingenio collection features high quality cookware with detachable handles and a range of accessories. Pictured is the 13 piece induction set for €304.99, available from Arnotts Department Store and www.tefal.com.

This gorgeous print is by Simone Walsh, called appropriately, Mighty Munster! It's 9.5" x 17.5", mounted and will set you back €40, and the framed price is €75. Available from www.theoldmillstores.ie.

landsshowcase.com
Homebird.ie is an Irish online store, celebrating it's first year in business this December. A husband and wife team based in Cavan, they specialise in unique and cleverly designed items and offer custom-made and personalised posters and gifts. A good example is this fabulous Morrissey tea towel. This charming man can be wrung out. Just €12.95. www.homebird.ie